

Points of View

Molly Bonell and Lizzie Seibert

1st person

1st person point of view is used when you are telling the story. Examples: We, I, me, mine, our, ours, my, and us.

3rd person

3rd person point of view is referring to another person or thing. Examples: He, she, it, him, her, his, and hers.

third person point of view

a person not involved in the actual story is telling the story including the thinking and action of all characters.

look for the words "he" or "she" as signal words for third person.

3rd person omniscient

Omniscient is a method of storytelling in which the narrator knows the thoughts and feelings of all characters in the story.

3rd person limited

Limited is a method of storytelling in which the narrator knows only the thought and feelings of a single character.

3rd person objective

Objective point of view is when the narrator assumes the position of an observer, and when the reader doesn't see any of the characters inner thoughts or feelings.

Quiz Time! (thumbs up/thumbs down)

- 1) 3rd person objective is the method of storytelling in which the narrator knows the thoughts and feelings of all characters.
- 2) 3rd person point of view is referring to another person or thing.
- 3) It is true that 3rd person limited is a method of storytelling where the narrator knows the thoughts and feelings of all characters?